

North to Alaska

(Alaska Day Festival, October 18)

Alaska was purchased from Russia in 1867, but it did not become a state until 1959. Although it is the largest state in the United States, it has the fewest people of any other state. Find out more about Alaska by labeling the following landmarks:

- Juneau (state capital)
- Mount McKinley (highest peak in the U.S.)
- Trans-Alaskan Pipeline
- Yukon River
- Arctic Ocean
- Pacific Ocean
- Canada
